

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.
As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities are...	From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?	What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?	Please tick the box which best describes you
Practical support for families such as vouchers for food;Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Helping children to not offend again ;	Practical support Reducing the number of children who enter the CJS	More paid work experience in different fields	Staff Member
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Checking the work we do is effective;			Volunteer
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Reducing the number of children who go to prison;Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer;	reducing first time entrants dispro- making the system fairer for global majority children	all the suggested priorities interlink and are business as usual	Staff Member
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Helping children to not offend again ;Reducing the number of children who go to prison;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;	Have youth Center open for those young children who can learn go on trips away from certain places	No is all good	Parent/Carer
Helping children to not offend again ;Investing in our staff team;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;	Staff to have professionally accredited psychologically informed training where they are able to use therapeutic techniques with children/parents/carers.		Staff Member

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.
As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities ar...	From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?	What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?	Please tick the box which best describes you
Helping children to not offend again ;Reducing the number of children who go to prison;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;	Helping Children not to reoffend again and increasing the number of children in ETE.		Volunteer
Helping children to not offend again ;Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer;Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;			Board Member
Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer;Helping children to not offend again ;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;	- Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment - Tackling the high number of black children who are over-represented in criminal justice - make the system fairer	There is an emerging body of research linking childhood experience of domestic abuse with serious youth violence. This is something that primarily impacts boys as both victims and perpetrators of SYV. Is there potential to explore the relational impact domestic abuse has on boys in view of developing a child specific early intervention/repair pathway for child victims of domestic abuse? This could combine expertise/practitioners on different types of male violence and masculinity, including from the Youth Justice Service.	Board Member

Appendix 4 - Attendees at Priorities Event

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.
As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities ar...	From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?	What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?	Please tick the box which best describes you
Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Investing in our staff team;			Staff Member
Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Ask children to help us improve what we do;Helping children to not offend again ;	Providing more opportunities for ETE	Effects of social media and the housing crisis	Volunteer
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Helping children to not offend again ;Checking the work we do is effective;	reducing number of children entering CJS and Helping children to not offend again. Help get into ETE add positive activites Offer of CAMHS support.		Staff Member
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;	Early intervention and education to help youngsters find self respect and a sense of achievement away from adverse influences	If a child does get into criminality ensure they have one guide/mentor to navigate through either OOCs/court system	Board Member
Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Checking the work we do is effective;Reducing the number of children who go to prison;	Reducing the number of children who go to prison Checking the work we do is effective	Knife crime	Child

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.
As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities ar...	From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?	What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?	Please tick the box which best describes you
Helping children to not offend again ;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;	The priority of helping children not to offend again will be greatly helped by another of the priorities: increasing the number of children in education, training and employment. Access to mentoring, assisting with functional skills to access training could open doors to rewarding, well paid jobs	I would like to see more focus on childrens'/their families' health including reparations where children can learn healthy cooking. Also lifestyle interventions concerning good food, sleep, exercise etc	Volunteer
Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;Investing in our staff team;	Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System & investing in our staff team	Ensuring that staff are trained in coaching as well.	Staff Member
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;	1) Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System 2) Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System - ensuring there are sufficient opportunities in Camden for CYP to engage in meaningful training, education and work by connecting with as many partner organisations as possible (both internal and external organisations).		Volunteer

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.
As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities ar...	From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?	What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?	Please tick the box which best describes you
	Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer - revising policies, training of police, YJS management involved in more decision making in courts
Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;	Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System - mediation, signposting to services and making sure they are priority		Staff Member
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Reducing the number of children who go to prison;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;	Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System and Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System	Addressing Overrepresentation of black children.	student social worker
Helping children to not offend again ;Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Reducing the number of children who go to prison;	trying to understand how children end up offending, the backgrounds they come from and also engaging them in services as early as possible to prevent offending happening.	Support for families. And also supporting staff in the service,	Volunteer

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.

As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities ar...

From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?

What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?

Please tick the box which best describes you

	Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System - more support to families with vulnerabilities, and families who are experiencing poverty. Especially helping black children who an within disadvantaged families. Ensuring that we have the capacity for early interventions in all these cases.
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;	Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment- Increasing the support for school staff in what is a very difficult environment.	Early intervention and keeping children out of the CJS, and better liaison with schools so that children who may be heading for the CJS can be identified and supported earlier.	Board Member
Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;Investing in our staff team;Helping children to not offend again ;	Helping children before they enter cjs be in communities and schools presence	Helping people not reoffend	Child
Helping children to not offend again ;Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer;Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;	Prevention is top priority. Identifying those at highest risk of offending and engaging them before a crime is committed. Equally important to try to break cycles of offending.	Working with the wider family and younger siblings of offenders to prevent other children following criminal pathways.	Board Member

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.

As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities are...

From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?

What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?

Please tick the box which best describes you

Helping children to not offend again ;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Ask children to help us improve what we do;

Helping children not to offend again, and asking children to help improve what we do. I think both of these go hand in hand. To help children not to offend again, we must be asking them how to improve what we do for them.

Possibly bringing in poets to recite spoken word on their experiences of improving their lives after an offence.

Volunteer

Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Helping children to not offend again ;Reducing the number of children who go to prison;Reducing the number of children who go to prison before trial;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Ask children to help us improve what we do;Checking the work we do is effective;Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;Practical support for families such as vouchers for food;Investing in our staff team;

Volunteer

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.
As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities ar...	From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?	What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?	Please tick the box which best describes you
Helping children to not offend again ;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;	Reducing re-offending and increasing support to children are at risk of entering the criminal justice system. A focus on proactive targeting of early help services to children when they first come to the attention of services	Provision of child-specific victim services - We know ACEs place children at greater risk of offending, expanding work to mitigate the harm of victimisation would help achieve a balance between criminalisation of children who commit offences against other children and the need to protect other children from victimisation.	Board Member
Helping children to not offend again ;Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;	Reduce entering CJS by helping people in the School and community	Work with school and parents so children can get identified earlier and school can work with parents and professionals	Parent/Carer
Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;Helping children to not offend again ;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;	Reducing number of children in the criminal justice system- by having preventative resources ie ETE and more joint up working with other services ETE- ensuring that networks are properly co-ordinating with one another and sharing concerns. Better working with schools and ensuring that work experience programmes are still available	ETE Disproportionality Toxic masculinity Impact of social media	Staff Member

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.
As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities ar...	From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?	What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?	Please tick the box which best describes you
Helping children to not offend again ;Increasing the number of children in Education, Training and Employment;Offering more support and help to children and families before they enter the Criminal Justice System;	Helping Children to not offend again and offering more support to children and families before they enter the CJS Offering support to CSSW to work with families who are at risk of entering or have lived experience of being involved with the CJS to prevent their children following the same path. In the same way we work with those on Turnaround. To provide bespoke ETE - Creating homegrown opportunities		Staff Member
Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer;Practical support for families such as vouchers for food;Reducing the number of children that enter the Criminal Justice System;	Practical support for families - Financial support so kids don't feel like they need to sell drugs Black children who are over represented - Better curriculum in school. Sports music other practical things. Youth workers in school. Then there would be more opportunities for black children so they won't offend	don't know	Child

Every year the Camden Youth Justice Service writes a Youth Justice Plan, it talks about our priorities and achievements.

As part of this, we keep or add new priorities. Our current priorities are...

From the above list, what are your top 2 priorities and do you have any ideas how we can achieve them?

What else do you think the Youth Justice Service should focus on?

Please tick the box which best describes you

Helping children to not offend again ;Reducing the number of children who go to prison before trial;Tackling the high number of black children who are overrepresented in criminal justice - make the system fairer;

Invest more money in the staff

Work shops starting in primary school

Parent/Carer